Discussion summary:

We discussed deliverable 0 and started to brainstorm about what types of methods we should use and how it should look. We got most of deliverable 0 done and seem to be on schedule to finish by Sunday. We had to delete and made a new GitHub repository since the last one started to cause bugs on everyone's laptops. We also worked on the User's Stories and paper prototypes that were discussed in class. We also decided to keep in touch during the weekend in case any of our teammates need help with a particular problem.
